Revolutionary New Technology Shows Promise of Restoring Youthfulness and Health

- “Pulse on America” to feature Bio-Scalar Energy Enhancement System Technology -

July 5, 2008, Deerfield Beach, FL – The producers of Pulse on America, an innovative, educational television series, will present a new bio-regenerative scalar technology on the Discovery Channel in a segment on “Health and Fitness in America,” as part of the show’s “Healthy Living” series. The segment will air on August 21, 2008 at 6:00 a.m. ET & PT, at 5:00 a.m. CT and at 4:00 a.m. MT.

The segment introduces viewers to bio-regenerative scalar technology and includes interviews with the team that researched, developed and implemented the EESystem that will be featured during the show. In addition to the national airing on the Discovery Channel, the segment will also air at the top and bottom of the hour of CNN Headline News regionally.

What exactly is bio-regenerative scalar technology and what can it do for the average person seeking to improve quality of life?

“We regularly re-charge our cell phones, don’t we? What if we could re-charge the cells of our bodies just as easily?” asks Dr. Sandra Rose Michael, DNM.

Dr. Michael developed the EESystem that integrates bio and quantum physics, science, and body-mind homeostasis, allowing cell regeneration and much more according to the research of leading biological scientists, physicists and physicians.

By generating multiple bio-active life enhancing energy fields including “scalar waves,” Dr. Michael’s EESystem can allow cell regeneration, improve immune function, provide relief from pain, detoxify the body, elevate moods, rejuvenate the body and enhance sexual stamina, assist in balancing right and left hemispheres of the brain, and promote an overall sense of well-being.

Celebrities, scientists, doctors, health and beauty professionals, and individuals are already “recharging their cells” and boasting the benefits of coherent unified energy fields generated by this revolutionary technology. These coherent unified energy fields can promote healing by combining body, mind, spirit and science to
